Every space is an expression of your identity. Whether you're in the office or not, corporate identity is expressed through workspace design. For your home office, draw inspiration from the latest design trends and evolving ideas across the realm of office design.

We believe that a workspace should be as much about what it does for you as it is about how it looks-and we've created this space to work in, relax and feel close to the vibe of the city.

The new TAMIM SQAURE project aims to provide its users with a space that allows them to get their work done but also leaves them feeling fresh and revitalized after spending time in their own personal space.

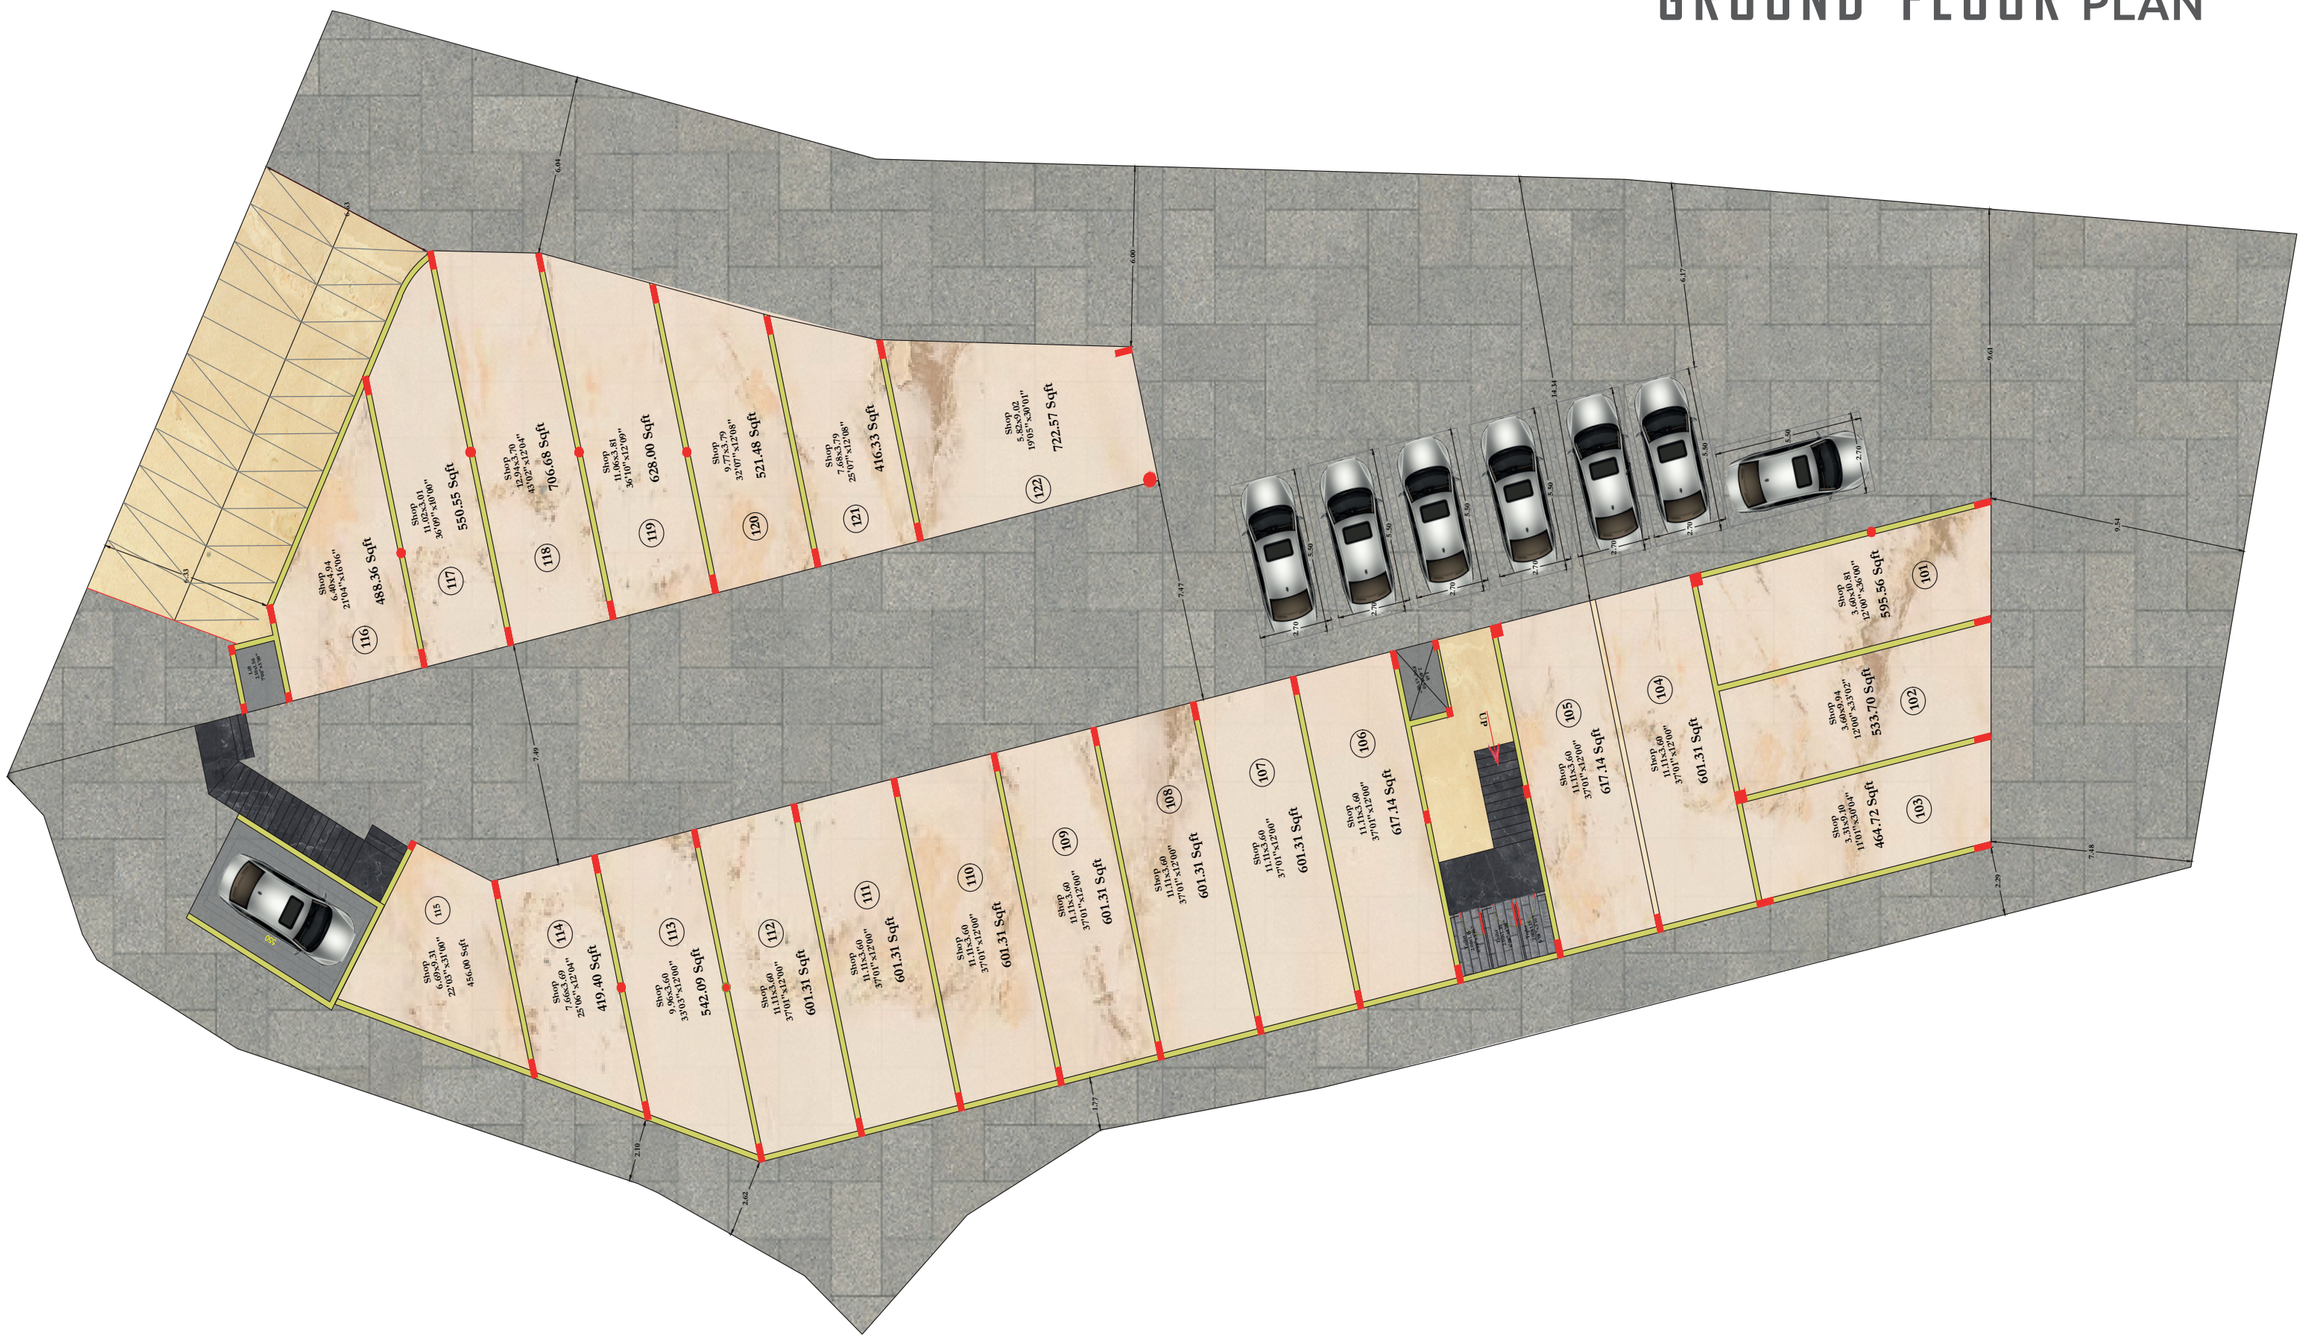

The project is a low-volume building wrapped in swathes of glass that lead your eye out into outdoor courtyards and the city beyond.

Tamim Square

Whether Development is a catchword that has attracted our attention down the ages.
Tamim Square in every sector, especially the business sector always looks for growth, expansion and diversification in big ways. A big business always begins with a humble start-ups or an established brand also makes it big with diversification! Kuttiyady is from times immemorial is a trading centre and in the modern times known for trade expansion and business diversity.
